WILLIE WESTINGHOUSE'S MECHANICAL DOG WAS TOO LIFELIKE

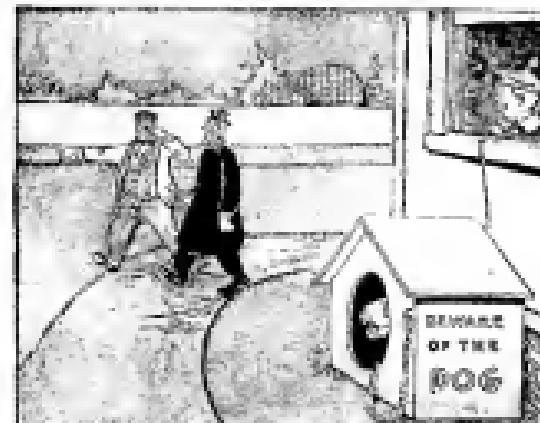

AUTOMATIC WATCH DOG

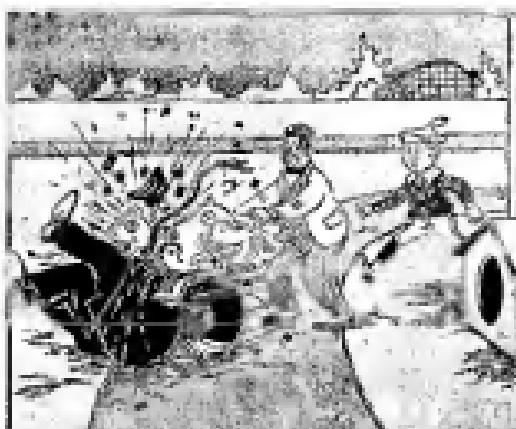

Dear Tompsey made a fake dog to scare away beggars and peddlers. When you pull the string he apparently jumps out, snapping his jaws and growling.

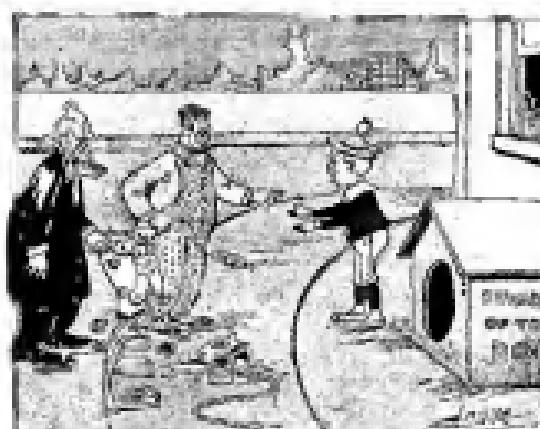

Papa was admiring it when he saw the Master coming

I set the dog upon, and Papa walked the Master toward us, pointing to some disagreements on the law.

If Papa hadn't pulled the dog off, it would have clawed the Master in places.

Of course, I got all the blame for it. Yours, etc., Willie.

When I pulled the trigger the dog jumped, and growling growling, Tompsey the single pulled out.
